Vote: 7 Yeas.

Order No. 17-004. Act on the request from the Shellfish Commission to approve the Allocations of Shellfish Licenses for 2017. Councilor Hayes gave an overview on this order, noting there are individuals on both sides of the issue as to whether the licenses are increased or not.

The following spoke on this item:

- Peter Angis of Old Blue Point Road spoke in support of the increases in the licenses and gave a brief overview on his history with the Shellfish Conservation Commission. He felt there was plenty of clams available for digging. He added that over 60% of our current licenses holders were over 50 year olds and the industry needs younger blood. He encouraged the Town Council to support the recommendation from the Shellfish Commission.

- Elisha Holbrook of Beech Ridge Road stated that he holds a Student Commercial License and spoke against the increase in the licenses. He noted that in the area where you thought the clamming would be good, it would not be, because the milk ribbon worm had cleaned out the clams.
- Paul Erickson of Pine Point Road noted that he had been commercial digger of 6 years and his concern was with the predators [green crab and the milky ribbon worm]. The worms go after the clams that are 2” or more, these are the marketable clams and there are not a lot of them as was mentioned before. The issue is similar to shrimping, you do not have season anymore. He felt that it would be safer to keep licenses at the current number.
- David Green of Beech Ridge Road and holder of a commercial license, stated that last year the Committee arrived at a compromise when it came to the licenses to keep them the same as the year before. He then reviewed the information that had been supplied to the Town Council e.g. landing reports data over a period of time. The committee does feels we should protect the resources; however; their decision was not made based on the data available. The landing report is being used for the first time this year and feels if the committee had made their decision based on data, they would not have increase the number. He hopes the council will preserve the resource and not increase the numbers.
- Robert Willette of Trackview Terrace and former chair of the Shellfish Commission, noted that there had been no information provided to support the recommended changes. He further noted that a comment had been made that were only 8 active diggers – as a commercial buyer he showed there were 20 plus that have been actively digging in Scarborough flats. He did not support the recommended increases.
- Tim Downs of Jones Creek Drive stated he supported his recommendation for the increase in the licenses. He felt that clams should be taken from the mud so the predators would not have anything feed off - why feed the predators and not the human.
- Ed Blanchard of Payne Road stated he has held a commercial license since 1991 and has seen changes in the flats. He spoke against the increase in the licenses and urged the Town Council to leave them as is.
- Erica Downs of Jones Creek Drive and a member of the Shellfish Conservation Commission spoke in support of the increase in the licenses. She went to speak on the data from DMR and then questioned the accuracy of the numbers from the State. She urged the Town Council to support the recommendation of the Commission.
- Joe Delano, one of the non-resident commercial diggers [holds a license for Scarborough] from Freeport. Spoke in support of the increase of the licenses. He acknowledged that there was a problem with the milky ribbon worm, but felt there were plenty of clams. He added that information from DMR indicated that there were are only 9 people who dug over 100 day period. He urged the Town Council to support the recommendation of the Commission.
- Chuck Maynard, one of the non-resident commercial diggers [holds a license for Scarborough], felt that the council is being misled and felt that the numbers should be left as is. It is about the resources being available for the future. Please leave the numbers as they are.
- Dwayne O’Roak of Church Street spoke against the increase in the licenses, adding that the predator situation was bad.
- Dennis Violette of Ocean View Road spoke in support the increase in the licenses and felt that there is a need for younger blood.
- Jessica Holbrook of Beech Ridge Road spoke on the situation and the commission itself. She felt that it may be time to review the charge for this group as well as other committees. She spoke on the comment regarding the two licenses that had not been used and made suggested on ways that could possibly help with the predators.

- Mo Erickson of Pine Point Road spoke on the recommendations and spoke of an article from newsletter that seasons for clams could not be predictable and it was not only is the predator that was a problem, but climate control as well.
- Ed O'Bar of Philip Street, stated that over the years the clam yield had gotten smaller and smaller and he did not agree with the increase in the licenses.

At this point in the meeting Chairman Babine closed public comment and then asked the Marine Resource Office, Ian Anderson, to please come forward and make a few comments on this Order.

Ian Anderson, Marine Resources Officer for the Town of Scarborough, spoke on this issue. Noting that data presented had been from DMR, which is the Ruling Authority of the State. He pointed out that there been no Rainfall closures this past year, which would affect the digging and went on to make comments the green crab and milky ribbon worm issue noting that these predators had pretty much decimated Freeport and Brunswick flats. His would recommendation would be to increase the resident commercial license by one license which would mean an automatic increase of 1 on the non-resident commercial and increase the over 60 commercial by 1. The town needs to conduct further surveys in the area and possibly bring in an outside sources to assist. He then responded to questions from the Town Council.

Motion by Councilor St Clair, seconded by Councilor Hayes, to move approval on the request from the Shellfish Commission to approve the Allocations of Shellfish Licenses for 2017.

Councilor St. Clair, seconded by Chairman Babine, to move approval to amend the main motion by having the Resident Commercial go to 31 – the over 60 to 2 and take the remaining recommendations from the Committee.

Vote on Amendment: 7 Yeas.

Motion by Councilor Rowan, seconded by Councilor St. Clair, to move approval to amend the main motion as amended to hold the license numbers at the 2016 Allocations.
